1. Animals fostered from A Place for Peanut, Inc. include no guarantees regarding soundness, temperament, or general condition. Foster recognizes and agrees to hold harmless APFP, its directors, officers, heirs, or assigns forever for any damage or injury to property or persons.
2. APFP has had the opportunity to observe the interaction between the foster home and the equine and has determined that this foster home is in the best interest for all parties involved.
3. APFP may visit the equine on a regular basis to insure that the equine is properly cared for.

4. The foster home agrees to notify APFP at least two weeks prior to the intended relocation of the equine, in order to assure a smooth transition for the equine, the herd and all humans involved. The foster home also agrees to provide APFP with information on the location of the equine at all times.
5. Should there be any evidence that the fostered equine is not cared for properly or treated inhumanly or used for activity the equine is not properly trained or fit or healthy for APFP will have the right to reclaim said animal.
6. In the event that the equine is no longer wanted by the foster home or believes that he or she can no longer provide adequate care for said equine, for any reason, under any circumstance, including illness and/or death of the foster home, the equine must be returned APFP. The equine cannot be sold or sent to auction or slaughter.

Both parties consider this foster home final and binding.
